USP's:

This is the 1st Unified platform with Hybrid Intelligence, which combines Vital health data & current life style of the users. Every person's intake is different. Some need more calories and some need less. With this service and with their Hybrid Intelligence, they tailor your intake requirement based on your current health state, goals, and needs. They strongly believe that "Everybody is different so is the definition of eating healthy". With their service, you can discover what is healthy for you. 1st intelligent app to boost the "Sleep Cycles" for target users.

The app of this company is connectable with your wearable to track your activity and they provide connectivity and integration (Apple Watch/Samsung Health, FitBit, Google Health and Huawei health). Their app will then be able to give you 100% personal advice on what to eat when to eat, and the amount of food. This company is well-positioned to serve the $236 B global HealthApp market.
