Company description:

Almost half of the trucks on European roads are empty, more than 40% of the space driven around is not occupied. That's a huge waste of money and a disaster for our climate, as road traffic is one of the major producers of carbon. The wasted energy on German roads equals the whole CO2 output of Sweden.

In 2020, more than 4 billion parcels were shipped in Germany, generating a revenue of more than 80 billion Euros. E-Commerce-companies are growing fast.

The solution of this startup: An ecosystem that reduces waste in the freight industry and saves a lot of money is utilizing existing freight capacities to create an ultra-efficient and competitive parcel delivery service.
